DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claims 1-11, drawn to a fuel cell system comprising an external electric source operative to apply current to the fuel cell and to change a direction in which the current is applied to the fuel cell, class 429 subclass 22 .

Group II, claim 12, drawn to a method of operating a fuel cell system comprising an external electric source operative to apply current to the fuel cell when a performance of the fuel cell is recovered, class 429 subclass 13.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the common technical feature is a fuel cell system comprising an external electric source operative to apply current to the fuel cell and to change the direction in which the current is applied to the fuel cell. This cannot be a special technical feature under PCT Rule 13.2 because the element is shown in the prior art.

Matsuoka (WO 03/061045, cited in IDS) teaches a fuel cell system, comprising: a fuel cell including a polymer electrolyte membrane (8A) electrode with anode (9A) (Applicant's fuel electrode) and cathode (9B) (Applicant's oxidant electrode) disposed on either side (Applicant's sandwiching) of the solid polymer electrolyte membrane (8A) (Applicant's polymer electrolyte membrane-electrode catalyst complex), and separators (11A, 11B) formed with passages (10A, 10B) (Applicant's channels) through which a fuel and an oxidant are supplied to the polymer electrolyte membrane (8A) electrode with anode (9A) (Applicant's fuel electrode) and cathode (9B) (Applicant's oxidant electrode) disposed on either side (Applicant's polymer electrolyte membrane-electrode catalyst complex) (Abstract; figure 1; page 4, lines 19-22; page 5, lines 1-3); and a controller (16) (Applicant's external electric source) controlling switch (12) connecting a secondary battery (13) which is operative to apply current to the fuel cells (1) and the controller (16) changing the direction in which the current is applied to the fuel cells (1) (figure 1; page 5, lines 16-24; page 6, lines 1-18; page 19, lines 7-14).

3. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims.

Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder.

All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
